USINESS DIRECTORY ROAD DRAG IS EFFECTIV

Gives Proof From Experience of its Value

The 'split log" drag, so called beause the first drags of the kind were made from logs of the proper size and length, finds a warm supporter in A. H. Leidigh, director of the Amarillo experimental farm of the department of agriculture. In letter to the Daily Panhandle toiay, Mr. Leidigh gives the following convincing proof of the drag's worth from actual experience here;

Have Used Drag Two Years. "For two seasons we have used road drag on the most used roads on the experimental farm. The use of the drag will be kept up and extended and we will use it while the ground is just drying after a rain.

"I had hoped to get good results from the drag on account of the soil here, but as we have only used it a little and on roads frequently crossed by plows and disks, and have gotten excellent results I now think it time to call attention to this method of overcoming the mud troubles which are so well known in this re-

Drag Costs $2.10. "The drag is well known in the North and East and will be just as well liked here when it is once tried. Our drag cost $2.10 to make, and covers seven feet of road with two horses at each passage. It is so made that it brings some dirt to the center of the road and thus keeps a good crown on the part fost used. The main thing done by the drag is to puddle and compact the surface soil, thus causing it to bake and harden when drying and this not only gives a good road for travel but also turns the water better when it rains and the road will therefore dry quicker and cut up under trave!

"To get results the drag has to stick too bad to the drag. "The drag ought to be an excelbut it has to be used when the streets | the printing press has done as nothing are wet so as to cause baking. Yours else has done, and therefore to the "A. H. LEIDIGH. Supt."
